

Lodge Out, Bunker His Replacement

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is sending his top crisis diplomat, 72-year-old Ellsworth Bunker, to Vietnam to replace retiring ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Bunker's immediate task will be to assure success of efforts already under way to form a new, constitutional South Vietnamese government.

The Lodge resignation and Bunker appointment, suddenly announced by Johnson Wednesday, were the most important changes in a far reaching shake-up of the U.S. Embassy staff in Saigon. No changeover date was announced, however.

The overhaul reportedly reflects a determination by the President to put new emphasis on trying to develop political stability in the South Vietnamese capital and to step up pacification of the war-ravaged countryside. Johnson is reported to consider both as vital fronts in the fight to defeat Communist conquest of the South.

Almost as Johnson talked, there were reports from Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin and United Nations sources of fresh peace initiatives. Washington sources said they were aware of these developments but that no indication of change in Hanoi's policy had been received.

Johnson also announced that Gen. William C. Westmoreland's military command will be strengthened by "additional top flight military personnel — the best that the country has been able to provide." He promised intensive ground operations in the months ahead.

There is continuing speculation here that Westmoreland may be given a new Southeast Asia theater command, but Johnson made no mention of any such change in the course of his announcements during a Fair Grounds. Committees were appointed to work toward more participation from the cattle producers in the Third District area and the Fat Calf Show and Sale.

Mr. Turner assured the County Agents and Board Members in attendance, that those 4H and FFA youth entering calves in this show and sale they would receive better prices for their entries this year than they had in the past.

The county agents suggested that the catalogue be prepared and mailed out earlier this year in order to give the exhibitors more time to get their livestock and educational exhibits ready. Donal Parker offered his services to help with the catalogue in an effort to improve it and get it out earlier.

Several other items of minor nature were discussed and the Board asked that they be handled by the executive committee instead of calling the Board back together.

"I appreciate the excellent cooperation of this group," said Mr. Turner, "and with our continued efforts we can make this another real good year for the Third District Livestock Show."

speech at Nashville, Tenn. The President is scheduled to fly to Guam, leaving Washington Saturday night, for a Vietnamese war conference which will bring together Bunker, Lodge, Westmoreland and other U.S. leaders involved in the conflict. South Vietnamese leaders including Premier Nguyen Cao Ky will also attend.

Despite denials from various official sources, Ambassador Lodge is known to have been interested for some months in relinquishing the Saigon post as soon as the President could find a replacement. He began his present tour of duty as ambassador in South Vietnam in August 1965. He had previously held the post from August 1963 to June 1964.

At a news conference last Thursday, Johnson was asked about reports Lodge wanted to resign and Johnson was looking for a successor.

"No, there is no truth that I am looking for a successor," said Johnson. "Ambassador Lodge has talked to me on several occasions that he, in due time, would leave his post."

WR Urges Teachers to Support Him

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has mailed letters to teachers in Arkansas urging that they support a bill pending in the Arkansas House that would provide a formula distribution of state aid to schools.

Included in the bill is money to provide the teachers a salary increase. Rockefeller has signed one bill that would give teachers a flat $500 raise in each year of the next biennium.

The formula bill would place salaries of many teachers below the $500 a year pledged by the governor.

The legislature reconvenes on March 27 following a two-week recess. The formula bill, pending in the House Education Committee, has been passed by the Senate.

Rockefeller said the formula bill was more equitable and that if passed, it would supersede the other measure he signed.

Rockefeller said the formula bill would give about 70 per cent of the teachers raises in excess of $400 a year and about 55 per cent increases in excess of $500 a year.

The governor said the flat distribution bill had no equalization factor and that it forced discriminatory practices of certain districts, inviting a federal court challenge as to the use of state salary funds in districts allegedly discriminating against Negroes.

Rockefeller said that in the last 15 years fiscal experts have drawn up three distribution plans for the state and that each called for formula allocation.

"I believe you classroom teachers should play an important role in determining which distribution method is to be followed," Rockefeller wrote.

"I am confident that each of you will base your decision on the overall effect on Arkansas education, rather than solely on personal financial consequences," he said.

School Bus Driver Hurt

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Only the driver of a car was injured Wednesday when a schoolbus and car collided here. G. R. White, a school teacher who was driving the bus, said none of the children was injured. Clyde Wilkerson of El Dorado, driver of the car, was hospitalized but his injuries were not believed serious.

Authorities did not say how many persons were on the bus.

Debate Starts on Business Tax Incentive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House opens debate today on administration measures to restore tax breaks to business, with President Johnson's proposed personal income tax hike seen as a key issue.

The immediate issue is restoring the 7 per cent investment tax credit on equipment, and speeding depreciation for income-producing buildings, two tax incentives suspended last October.

But the debate is expected to involve Johnson's proposal for a 6 per cent income tax surcharge effective July 1, with opponents arguing the House can't provide tax relief for businesses and then weeks later add to the average citizen's tax burden.

The surcharge also would apply to corporate incomes.

Johnson had recommended restoring the business tax incentives retroactive to Jan. 1, but the House Ways and Means Committee went him one better. As approved by the committee, the measures would allow benefits on equipment ordered during the five-month suspension but not delivered until after March 10.

It was estimated this would allow businesses to retrieve all but about $300 million of the $1.7 billion in tax benefits they were expected to lose because of the suspensions.

The administration's contention that there is no conflict between the tax incentives and surcharge proposals has met widespread resistance on Capitol Hill.

China Army Takes Over Red Party

HONG KONG (AP) — Canton Radio said today the Red Chinese army has taken over the Communist party apparatus and most major factories in the south China metropolis, but other reports said stubborn resistance to Mao Tse-tung's purge is continuing there.

The Canton broadcast said units of the people liberation army seized control of all party committees in the city to "smash revolutionary influence by small numbers of authorities plotting with enemies and planning sabotage."

Another broadcast said troops loyal to Mao took over factories and businesses in an effort to restore production and were "enthusiastically welcomed" by the workers. But other reports from Canton, which could not be confirmed, said there had been many fights between workers and Maoists and thousands of workers were staying away from their jobs.

Canton, 90 miles northwest of Hong Kong, the capital of Kwangtung Province and south China's largest city, has long been a center of opposition to Mao's "great proletarian cultural revolution," his name for the purge begun last summer.

Recent reports have told of increased resistance of peasants and workers as Mao brought new pressure to take control of the province.

Moscow Radio, in a Japanese-language broadcast monitored in Tokyo, said Wednesday that large numbers of troops were being moved from north China into the south. The broadcast identified Kwangtung and Kweichow Provinces as the key trouble spots.

Hong Kong newspapers reported earlier that thousands of Cantonese workers armed with clubs and iron bars had clashed with pro-Mao soldiers who were trying to force them back to their jobs last Saturday.

There were no estimate of casualties from that incident, but another report Monday said thousands of persons had been killed or wounded in rural Kwangtung areas when troops opened fire on rebellious peasants and workers.

Woman Will Be Powell's Opponent

By AUSTIN SCOTT
NEW YORK (AP) — Lucille Pickett Williams, a 50-year-old grandmother, has taken on the Republican task of opposing Democrat Adam Clayton Powell in a special congressional election April 11 because she wants to "preserve the two-party system."

For 20 years, she has been working for the Republican party while holding a series of jobs ranging from a stock girl at Sak's Fifth Avenue to teaching beauty culture at the YWCA. "I am a determined woman," she says, noting that there appears to be overwhelming popular support for Powell in the Harlem community. She says she has no fear that the people will turn against her as they did on James H. Meredith when he agreed to oppose Powell as the Republicans first choice, then withdrew. "I have no fear of the people up here," she says. "I've spent the best years of my life here, 22 years. I've worked hard for the two-party system. I think it's important for people who don't want to vote for Adam to have choice."

Hammerschmidt Against Gun Sale Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., charged Wednesday that two bills designed to license and control the sale of firearms "would work a hardship on law-abiding people who want firearms for legitimate reasons."

The freshman congressman said he had no quarrel with the stated objectives of the bills — a reduction in crime.

Hammerschmidt said the bills set up limitations that "represent a completely unwarranted intrusion by the federal government into the rights of the people."

He referred to bills proposed by Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., and Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y.

"The bills appear fundamentally wrong," Hammerschmidt said. "They presume that easy access to firearms is a major cause of lawlessness, violent crimes and criminal behavior." "There is no call for Washington to throw up roadblocks against law-abiding citizens who want and need guns."

Aide Admits Money Used to Pay Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd's attorney planned to call a handwriting expert and a liquor store manager today in an attempt to Europe which broadcasts to five counter testimony from the senior Iron Curtain countries and monitors their broadcasts.

Former CIA head Allen Dulles, asserting students were not used as spies, said that where you are in battle, when secret activities are mounted against you, you can't advertise your counter methods." He conceded that the disclosure of such activities was "harmful but not fatal."

John F. Sonnett, chief counsel not used as spies, said that where you are in battle, when secret activities are mounted against you, you can't advertise your counter methods." He conceded that the disclosure of such activities was "harmful but not fatal."

O'Hare swore he paid bills for

Dodd with money orders to conceal that the money came from a testimonial fund.

"The senator didn't want political checks paying off these accounts," O'Hare said with reference to various expenditures including an overdue income tax payment.

Except for Edward B. Lockett, a writer hired by Dodd in 1963 to write a book, O'Hare was the last of the committee's witnesses under present plans of Chief Counsel Benjamin R. Fern.

At today's hearing Lockett was to complete testimony he barely began Wednesday and then Sonnett was to put on the first of his witnesses.

The basic accusation against Dodd is that he converted campaign funds to his own use but he contends that funds raised for him at testimonial events were tax-free gifts he could use as he saw fit.

Sonnett told newsmen one of his witnesses would be Alvin Oremland, whom he identified as manager of Schneider's liquor store here. He said another would be one of the country's leading handwriting experts. As to other witnesses he may call, including Dodd, Sonnett kept his options open. But the senator is expected to be the final witness in his own defense, probably Friday.

Under Sonnett's cross-examination Wednesday, O'Hare identified 16 checks totaling $531.50 made out to Schneider's liquor store. O'Hare testified all the checks bore Dodd's signature and were signed in his presence.

WORLD ALMANAC
FACTS

The term "Mach 1" designates the speed of an airplane flying at the speed of sound. When flying twice the speed of sound, the term "Mach 2" is used. The prefix Mach comes from the name of Ernst Mach, a Czech-born German physicist, who contributed to the study of sound, says The World Almanac. The speed of sound is usually placed at 1,088 feet per second at sea level at 32 degrees Fahrenheit.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Today's hand broke up a recent expert set match at Alvin Roth's Mayfair Club in New York. When the hand was over everyone was mad at his partner.

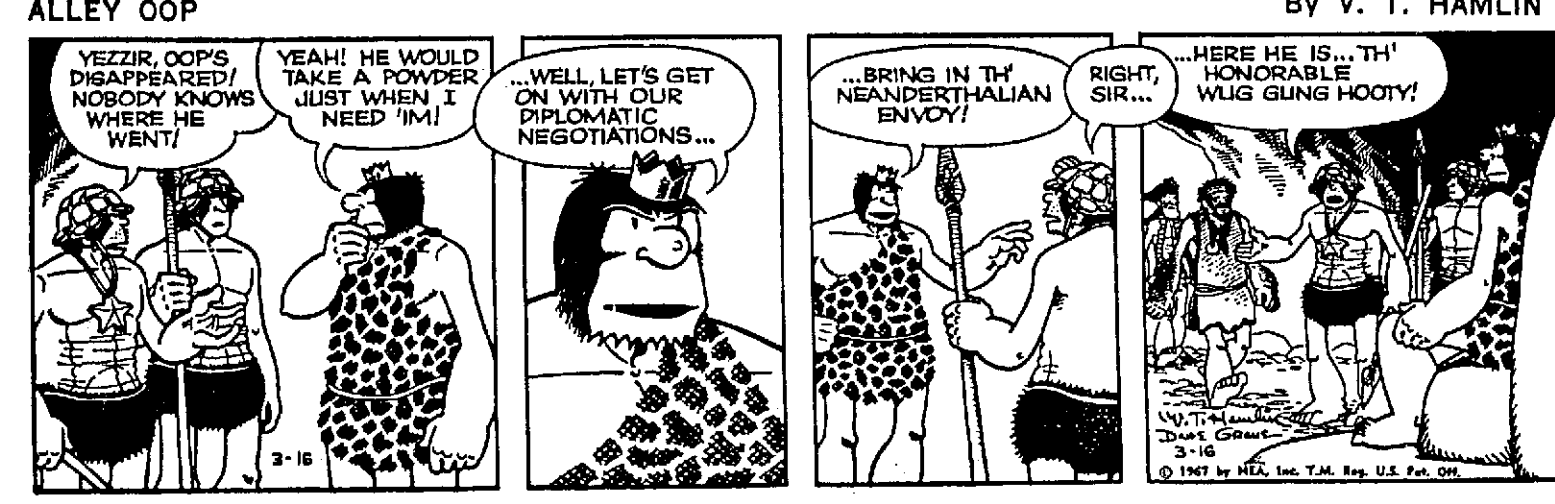

West's two-spade bid was one of those weak jump overcalls designed to crowd the opponent's bidding. North would have liked to double but North was using one of those special expert gadgets. His double would be for takeout, not business. South tried a three-heart bid and eventually wound up at five clubs doubled.

East put his ace of diamonds on dummy's king, after he thought awhile he decided that West had opened a singleton and returned the suit. South discarded his losing spade on dummy's queen and led dummy's jack of hearts. East ducked and the jack held. The deuce of hearts was played next and when East played the six, South stuck in his nine.

West ruffed and led a diamond, whereupon South ruffed, drew trumps with two leads, cashed his ace of hearts, ruffed a heart and claimed his contract.

East had not played like an expert. In fact, it would be difficult to find a player who would have played quite as poorly and West proceeded to tell this to East. East's only defense was to say that West had played badly all evening.

North and South collected their winnings but weren't happy with anything about the hand except the result. North wanted to know why South hadn't let him play three no-trump. South pointed out that a diamond opening would have beaten three no-trump several tricks.

South wanted to know why North hadn't passed four clubs. North wanted to know why South hadn't bid four hearts and the argument went on and on.

Cage Giant Killer Going After Rutgers

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Giant Killers of Southern Illinois, college basketball's latest cinderella team, go after their 18th straight victory against Rutgers in the semifinals of the National Invitational Tournament tonight.

A capacity turnout of 18,000 is expected at New York's Madison Square Garden to watch the Salukis from Carbondale, Ill., play the Scarlet Knights from New Brunswick, N.J., in the feature of a doubleheader. Marshall University's Thundering Herd from Huntington, W. Va., face the Marquette Warriors from Milwaukee in the opening NIT semifinal.

Southern Illinois, which passed up the NCAA national small college tourney to go after the big boys in the NIT, whipped the St. Peter's Peacocks and the Duke Blue Devils in their first two tourney games.

Rutgers upset Utah State and New Mexico to reach the semis. Marshall put out Villanova and Nebraska while Marquette surprised Tulsa and Providence to reach the round of four.

Waiting in the wings for the NIT finalists to be decided is unbeaten UCLA, the country's No. 1 team.

The Bruins and their super-sophomore, Lew Alcindor, strive for their 27th straight victory against Wyoming Friday night in one of eight second-round games at four regional sites in the NCAA tournament for the national championship.

UCLA and Wyoming meet at Corvallis, Ore., in the Far West regional doubleheader. U. of Pacific, with a 20-game winning streak, battles Texas Western, the defending champion, in the other half of the twin bill at Corvallis.

The NCAA East regional doubleheader at College Park, Md., pairs Princeton against North Carolina and Boston College against St. John's of New York.

Tennessee battles Dayton and Indiana takes on Virginia Tech in the Midwest Regional at Evanston, Ill.

In the Midwest Regional at Lawrence, Kan., it's Southern Methodist vs. Louisville and Kansas vs. Houston.

Kentucky Wesleyan, which beat Southern Illinois last year in the final of the NCAA small college championship tournament, continued its drive Wednesday night for a second straight title. The Panthers whipped Cheney Pa., State 66-53 in the quarter-finals at Evansville, Ind.

Winston-Salem State beat Long Island 62-54, Southwest Missouri defeated Valparaiso 86-72 and Illinois State went three overtimes before eliminating San Diego State 77-76 in the other quarter-finals.

Earl Monroe threw in 29 points for Winston-Salem for a season scoring record of 1,265. It wiped out the mark of 1,255 set by Bevo Francis of Rio Grande, Ohio, in 1954.

Kentucky Wesleyan battles Winston-Salem and Southwest Missouri tangles with Illinois State in the semifinals tonight.

Top-seeded St. Benedict's beat Southern, Ark., State 67-56 and Oklahoma Baptist, the defending champion, defeated Valdosta, Ga., State 70-62 to show the way into the quarter-finals of the AIA National Tournament at Kansas City.

In the other second round NAIA games, Eastern New Mexico beat St. Thomas, Minn., 69-67, St. Mary's of Texas eliminated Westminster, Pa., 55-53, Tennessee Wesleyan put out Midwestern of Texas 65-59, Morris Harvey defeated Chadron 91-76, Central Washington conquered Guilford 78-67 and Southwestern Louisiana humbled Central Michigan 70-62.

Jaun Marichal Is Definitely a Holdout

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
A couple of veteran pitchers have discovered they have some problems, while the San Francisco Giants have discovered they have a problem pitcher.

The problem is Juan Marichal.

Giants' President Horace Stoneham said in Phoenix Wednesday that contract negotiations with the ace right-hander have reached an impasse "and it looks like we have a definite holdout on our hands."

The club said Marichal has been offered $100,000 and that he is asking $110,000.

"The next move is up to Juan," Stoneham said.

Marichal, 25-6 with a 2.23 earned run average last season, is in the Dominican Republic.

Whitely Ford and Don Drysdale had problems of a different nature Wednesday. Drysdale, making his first start of the season for the Los Angeles Dodgers, gave up five hits and a run in three innings at Vero Beach, Fla., and the St. Louis Cardinals took a 5-2 exhibition victory.

Ford, belted for nine hits in three innings the first time he worked this season, gave up singles to the first four men he faced at Fort Lauderdale. The little lefty regained the touch, however, retired the next 11 men he faced and started the New York Yankees to a 6-3 decision over Boston.

In the other exhibitions in Florida, Cincinnati beat the New York Mets 11-6 at St. Petersburg, Washington nipped Atlanta 2-1 in 11 innings at Pompano Beach, the Chicago White Sox stopped Pittsburgh 4-1 at Fort Myers, Houston edged Detroit 4-3 at Cocoa, Baltimore romped over Kansas City 11-4 at Miami and Minnesota shelled Philadelphia 14-1 at Orlando.

In Arizona, the Chicago Cubs defeated California 7-6 at Scottsdale and San Francisco edged Cleveland 3-2 in 10 innings at Phoenix.

The Cardinals rapped off 16 hits off Drysdale and his successors, with John Duffie the loser. A two-run single by Ed Spezio, off Duffie in the seventh, wrapped it up.

Steve Whitaker had a homer and two singles and Mickey Mantle a run-scoring double in support of Ford. The Yankees, now 5-1 in exhibitions, got four runs in the first inning.

Rookie second baseman Ron Carew led Minnesota's rout of the Phillies, driving in five runs with a homer and bases-loaded double.

Curt Blefary paced Baltimore's easy victory over the A's. He had a three-run homer, a run-scoring single, walked three times and stole a base.

Rookie Jose Herrera drove in Houston's winning run against the Tigers with a two-out single in the ninth. Bo Belinsky was credited with the victory.

Pete Rose, playing in his first game for Cincinnati after being sidelined with a groin injury, drove in five runs on two homers against the Mets.

The Senators beat the Braves on Dick Billings' 10th inning hits and led the Cubs to their fourth straight victory. George Banks had a two-run homer for the Angels.

Illinois to Learn Fate Saturday

CHICAGO (AP)—The University of Illinois, ordered to fire three coaches in its $21,000 slush fund scandal or face ouster, from the Big Ten, goes into the showdown Saturday playing its cards close to the chest.

"I won't be able to say until after Saturday's meeting," university President Dr. David D. Henry replied Wednesday when asked whether Illinois has a counterproposal to the Big Ten demand to fire the coaches. Dr. Henry has called the demand "too harsh," a viewpoint shared by Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner.

The meeting was requested by Dr. Henry and convened Wednesday by the Big Ten's commissioner, Bill Reed. Policy-making faculty representatives from the conference's nine other members will be present Saturday at the Chicago meeting.

Illinois must appeal by Friday the faculty group's March 3 mandate upholding a Feb. 22 action by Big Ten athletic directors. The directors at that time ordered the firing of head football Coach Pete Elliott, head basketball Coach Harry Combes and assistant basketball coach Howie Braun.

Five Illinois athletes were ruled permanently ineligible. Two others were suspended for one year. Seven who were suspended by the school Dec. 23 were reinstated March 3 by the faculty group.

At the March 3 session, Dr. Henry pleaded for 45 minutes on behalf of the school, the 14 athletes and the coaches. Although the school had been ordered to show cause why it should not be expelled from the Big Ten, the faculty members held that the March 3 appearance did not fall in the "show cause" category. Saturday's meeting apparently does.

Bulls Take a Big Stride to Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Chicago Bulls have taken a giant stride towards landing a spot in the NBA playoffs in their first season in the National Basketball Association.

The Bulls whipped the Detroit Pistons on the road Wednesday night 99-91 and moved into fourth place in the Western Division a half-game ahead of the now last-place Pistons.

The Bulls have two games left to play in the regular season ending Sunday, the Pistons three.

Jerry Sloan threw in 32 points to lead a second half Chicago rally that erased a 69-62 Detroit lead.

Baskets by Dave Bing, who led the Pistons with 28 points, pulled Detroit to within three points before the Bulls sewed it up on a 20-foot jumper by Jerry Ward with 45 seconds to go.

Cincinnati broke a tie with the New York Knicks for third place in the Eastern Division. The Royals beat the Boston Celtics at home 112-108 while the Knicks lost on the road to the Baltimore Bullets 121-114.

Philadelphia came from behind in the second half to rout Los Angeles on the road 138-123 in the other NBA game scheduled Wednesday. The 76ers played the second half without Wilt Chamberlain. He was ejected for unsportsmanlike conduct with 75 seconds left in the first half.

Oscar Robertson's 31 points, including two free throws that insured the victory in the closing seconds, paced the Royals to their first conquest of the Celtics this season.

Kevin Loughery, with 29 points, led Baltimore over the Knicks. Two of his 11 free throws helped pull the Bullets out of danger after the Knicks had rallied to within 109-105, Walt Bellamy, with 32 points and 22 rebounds, paced the Knicks.

Billy Cunningham, with 31 points, and Hal Greer, with 29, led the second half attack for Philadelphia after the 76ers trailed at halftime 69-68. It was the 68th victory against only 12 defeats for the Eastern Division champs. Gail Goodrich's 26 points was high for the Lakers.

Don Kessinger, Glenn Beckert and Ron Santo each had two hits and led the Cubs to their fourth straight victory. George Banks had a two-run homer for the Angels.

Nicklaus Says More to Life Than Golf

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus became a millionaire by playing golf, but the 27-year-old Ohio better says he thinks there are "lots of things more important in life than beating a golf ball around a course."

The three-time Masters champion — and only golfer to win consecutive titles — isn't ready to halt his bid to become the game's undisputed top player, however.

"As long as I enjoy it and can compete successfully, I'll play," the blond distance-hitter said before starting his challenge in the $100,000 Jacksonville Open today.

Nicklaus won the Bing Crosby Tournament in January for his last triumph, but his failure to claim championships in the spring swing doesn't worry him.

"Any time I play, I play to win," Nicklaus said, "but you can hit your peak only five or six times a year, and I don't want to burn myself out this spring before all the big tournaments come up."

Nicklaus admitted he is pointing toward the Masters next month, where he will be trying for a third straight title, but he believes his game is good enough now to win the $20,000 prize that goes to the Jacksonville winner.

Doug Sanders is defending champion in the Jacksonville Open.

During 1966 there were 218 new golf courses, reports the National Golf Foundation.

Nicklaus won the Bing Crosby Tournament in January for his last triumph, but his failure to claim championships in the spring swing doesn't worry him.

Clay Told to Report to Army Duty

By DORMAN CORDELL
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Come April 11, it will be Pvt. Cassius Clay, U.S. Army — maybe.

The heavyweight champion, turned down by a presidential appeals board in his efforts to remain a civilian, has been ordered to report for induction on that date.

Clay's attorneys had anticipated the decision, however, and before the induction order was made public, they had begun a new legal action.

They filed suit in U.S. District Court alleging racial discrimination by Local Board 47, Clay's Louisville draft board, and by all other Kentucky draft boards because of a racial imbalance in their makeup.

Judge James F. Gordon set March 29 for hearing arguments on whether to name a three-judge panel to hear the suit, but he refused to issue a temporary restraining order barring Clay's induction. The suit asks for a permanent injunction.

J. Allen Sherman, chairman of the local board, said he had received word Tuesday that the appeals board had turned down Clay's request for deferment as a Black Muslim minister. He said the induction notice had gone out the same day.

But Clay apparently didn't know about it until reporters told him. He is in New York training for his March 22 title defense against Zora Folley.

"If what you say is true, this is gonna be my last fight," he said. "All those people who want to see the greatest heavyweight who ever lived better come to see me now."

The usually loquacious fighter visibly shaken, added, "I don't want to say any more. I don't want to talk to nobody. I'm gonna go see a movie and think about things."

Sherman denied that there is any racial discrimination by his board. He noted that one member, Robert Terry Downs, is a Negro. Downs' wife said he recently was appointed to the local board.

Second baseman Bobby Richardson retired, and Horace Clarke, who played a lot of shortstop, was out of position. Clarke has returned to second, Ruben Amaro is the shortstop and Charley Smith, acquired from the Cards for Roger Maris, will be at third. That's not exactly Jerry Coleman-Phil Rizzuto-Gil McDougald.

Elston Howard and Jake Gibbs will split the job of catching the pitchers, who Houk feels are one of the strong points of this year's team.

Whitely Ford, who underwent another shoulder operation last year, wasn't listed on New York's 40-man roster, but Houk expects him to be one of his starters.

The others will come from Mel Stottlemyre, Jim Bouton, Al Downing, Fritz Peterson, Fred Talbot and rookie Stan Bahnsen.

Yanks Badly Need Hitting of Mantle

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Can a rookie first baseman lead the New York Yankees out of the American League cellar?

Can the rookie play first base?

Manager Ralph Houk, who stood by helplessly as the Yankees tumbled into the cellar last year with a thud heard round the baseball world, is waiting patiently to find out if Mickey Mantle can play the new position.

Houk feels much of the team's success depends on whether he can.

Mantle, an outfielder for 16 years, has switched positions with Joe Pepitone because Houk feels Pepitone's presence in center field will stabilize the outfield and playing first could help Mantle save his battered legs.

The question of whether the 35-year-old Mantle can play first is being answered in spring training. If player or manager doesn't like how the experiment is progressing, he can end it immediately, and Pepitone will move back to first.

There's no doubt that Mantle still is better than most hitters in the league, and there's no doubt the Yankees need his bat in the line-up. They don't have too many others.

Pepitone took over the role of slugging leader last season when he hit 31 homers and drove in 83 runs. He'll also be one of the better defensive center fielders in the league and will be well supported on either side in the outfield.

Tom Tresh, who divided his time between the infield and the outfield last year, is set for left field while Houk plans on splitting right field between rookies Steve Whitaker, against right-handed pitchers, and Bill Robinson, against southpaws.

Robinson is the 23-year-old hopeful for whom the Yankees traded third baseman Cleto Boyer to Atlanta. Boyer's departure left New York without any of its regular 1966 infielders

Questions Haunt Case Against Shaw

By BILL CHIDER
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Whiskers for Lee Harvey Oswald and some tough questions haunted the Kennedy assassination conspiracy case against Clay L. Shaw today.

Perry R. Russo, 25, the insurance salesman turned star witness, remained on the hot grid of cross-examination at the preliminary hearing on whether Shaw must go to trial.

Shaw, 54, a wealthy retired executive, chain-smoked and watched impassively as his lawyers tried Wednesday to destroy Russo's credibility.

Why did Russo wait three years to tell authorities about an alleged conspiracy to kill President John F. Kennedy? The defense attorney, F. Irvin Dymond, asked.

Why didn't Russo recognize Lee Harvey Oswald, the one-time New Orleans resident named as the assassin, from television and newspaper photographs shown at the time? Dymond asked.

Russo, of Baton Rouge, had told the three-judge criminal District Court panel he was present in mid-September 1963 when Shaw, Oswald and David W. Ferrie plotted to kill the President.

Kennedy was shot about two months later in Dallas.

Shaw, booked but not formally charged with conspiracy to murder, has said he never knew Oswald or Ferrie. Free under $10,000 bond, he is the only man of the three named by Russo still living.

Ferrie, 49, a free-lance pilot with a record of morals offenses, died last Feb. 22 while under investigation by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison. The death was officially listed as due to natural causes.

Appropriations Bill Necessary

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A supplemental appropriations bill must be passed by the legislature before an administrative increase in state aid to nursing homes can be made, Welfare Commissioner A. J. Moss said Wednesday.

Moss said the funds available would provide only $10 per patient rather than the $30 per patient increase promised.

He said $200,000 for the increase is provided for in a bill which has not passed in the legislature.

Charge Filed in Wreck That Killed Four

TALLULAH, La. (AP) — A Pine Bluff, Ark. man was charged with four counts of negligent homicide Wednesday charged with four counts of negligent homicide Wednesday in the deaths of four Tallulah men in a fiery two-car crash Tuesday night.

No bond was set for James Dempsey, 38, a paper company employee at Pine Bluff.

Officers said Dempsey was recovering from burns and bruises but would be removed from the hospital to the jail.

Officers said Dempsey's car struck the rear of a car driven by Tallulah police chief James E. Rogan, 33. The police car erupted into flames, killing Rogan, Archie Fairbanks, 46, Billy Pemberton, 40 and Harry Viardo, 44.

after the assassination.

Russo, stolid under Dymond's questioning, said Oswald had seemed vaguely familiar when he saw photographs of him in 1963, but it wasn't until "they put whiskers on him" that he knew Oswald was the same man he had seen in Ferrie's apartment.

"Who put whiskers on him?" said Dymond.

"One of the artists," replied Russo. He pointed out a man seated with a cluster of assistant district attorney's at the prosecution table. Garrison was not present.

Asst. Dist. Atty. James L. Alcock arose and handed over a picture of a rather shaggy Oswald. "Perhaps this will help the court," At this point, the hearing adjourned, ending its second day.

Group Named to Revive Democrats

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ten persons were named Wednesday to a committee that will revise the rules of the Democratic Party in Arkansas.

The 10 were named by Leon B. Callett, chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

Beloit Taylor of Little Rock had previously been named chairman of the revision committee.

Named to the committee Wednesday were Ed McFaddin, Sam Robinson and Neill Bohlinger, all former associate justices of the Arkansas Supreme Court; former state Sen. Jim Brandon; T. E. Patterson, executive secretary of the Arkansas (Negro) Teachers Association, and E. J. Jacobs, secretary-treasurer of the Arkansas State AFL-CIO. These six members are all from Little Rock.

Also named were Dr. H. D. Luck of Arkadelphia, chairman of Democrats for Arkansas; W. J. Arnold, a Batesville lawyer; state Rep. Joe Hamilton of Harrison and Mrs. Harold D. Hantz of Fayetteville, a member of the state board of the League of Women Voters.

Tells About Vietnam War

WALLACE BEENE

(Editor's Note: Wallace Beene is shown above in the jungle of Vietnam where he is the Vietnam Bureau Chief for Stars and Stripes, military service publication. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Beene of Hope. The following letter was written to his parents.)

Dear Folks: Every time I come up to this area just south of the Demilitarized Zone the Marines seem to stir up a big fight. This past week has been no exception. It started when a Marine long range recon patrol spotted a reinforced battalion of the elite 324B North Vietnamese regulars moving south from the DMZ. A company of Marines was rushed in to help the patrol, but the enemy was much too strong and all but overran the Marines in hand to hand fighting. Bad weather made air strikes impossible, so a second Marine company was rushed in only to get badly mauled. Both units suffered heavy casualties, the first time to my knowledge that this has happened during a single fight. The Marines lost a lieutenant colonel battalion commander, one company commander and two platoon sergeants during the day-long fight. At dark the enemy fire was still too heavy for helicopters to lift out the wounded and most of them were left on the ground until the next day. The survivors of these first two companies were in such bad shape that I didn't even have the heart to take photos of them. Despite some 1,000 rounds of enemy mortar fire, the Marines regrouped with fresh units and attacked the second morning. At the same time a blocking force of Vietnamese government Rangers were dropped along the DMZ behind the enemy.

During the next three days the Marines killed some 487 of the enemy with a combination of ground assaults, artillery and air strikes. When they had started running low on reserves, they pulled out all the clerks, cooks and what have you to protect the perimeter here at Dong Ha so every available man could go into the field. When I left yesterday, the enemy units had started pulling back and were tangling with the Ranger blocking force, but I think the big fighting is over for now. The enemy troops were very well equipped, apparently with fresh supplies brought down during the truce period at New Year's tet observance, and I saw one brand new captured mortar that I'm certain had never been used before. The enemy troops are plenty tough and command no little respect from the Marines, but there are no finer fighting men in the world than these Marines. For example, when a patrol is moving along and gets ambushed, the Marines do not drop to the ground and attempt to hide—they charge. Perhaps the most remarkable thing of all is that you seldom hear one of the men complain about the war. I don't know exactly how the communists motivate their troops, but I'm convinced there are no more determined fighters than our Marines. It makes me terribly sad to see these fine young men brought back in a bag.

Love, Wallie

New Kennedy Grave Near the Old One

By MARTHA COLE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The new and permanent resting place of the late President John F. Kennedy lies on a terraced slope amid types of flowering trees he once liked.

The memorial, in Arlington National Cemetery, is more like a garden, a change from the formal design originally planned.

Kennedy's body was moved there, without prior announcement, Tuesday night. It is some 20 feet from the site where his body had lain since Nov. 25, 1963. Moved to the permanent memorial at the same time were the graves of two of his children, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, who died two days after his birth in 1963, and an unnamed daughter stillborn in 1956.

His widow, President Johnson and five brothers and sisters of the late president gathered at the new site, huddled under umbrellas in the rain, early Wednesday for the blessing of the grave.

The decision to change the memorial design came last fall,

It was learned, after some of the Kennedy family found that granite quarried over 150 years ago, was available.

This stone had been cut from a quarry on Cape Cod, Mass., near Falmouth and also near the home where Kennedy spent his summers and went while he was president to sail and relax.

The granite was collected from stone fences and abandoned foundations of barns and brought to Arlington.

Now, the rough-hewn slabs pave the area around his grave. The eternal flame rises through the center of a lighter-colored round stone, five feet in diameter, at one end of the grave. It looks like an old mill stone, but is simply an unmarked round stone also found on Cape Cod.

Wide white marble steps lead from a walkway up the terrace to the grave area. Around the walkway is a low stone wall inscribed with seven quotations from Kennedy speeches.

The original design for the $1.4-million memorial called for a terminal wall behind the grave with the presidential seal on it.

But now there will be only a grassy slope that undulates on up the hill to the steps of the mansion where Robert E. Lee once lived.

Will just any milk do for your children?

Every day, The Borden Company invests a lot of extra time, effort and expense because we know that you want the best milk money can buy for your children.

And why not, when milk is so important to a child's healthy growth?

To produce the best milk, we at Borden's maintain the strictest quality controls, beginning on the dairy farm and continuing until the milk reaches you.

Again and again — 23 times in all — we check Borden's Milk for freshness, purity, flavor and quality.

The cream content of Borden's Milk exceeds all regulations and requirements. And that extra cream gives Borden's the taste and flavor children like best.

We feel that anything less would be giving you less than you expect from Borden's — less than you want for your children.

Borden's has been in the dairy business for over a hundred years. We've learned that mothers want the best milk for their children — even when the higher standards and extra care sometimes make it cost a little more.

"True Blue"
The Scotch Convenanters of the 17th century chose blue as their emblem in opposition to the royal red and from this came the expression "true blue," originally applied to a loyal Presbyterian.

SERVES HIM RIGHT
Dear Helen: My boy friend lives in a different town and I don't get to see him often. Recently we had a fight and he wrote and apologized, then asked for a date the coming Friday night.
Friday, he didn't show or even call. In his next letter, no explanation, just asked for another date. Came Friday, same thing. This happened for three consecutive weeks.
Last Friday, I went on a date with another boy.
Yup, you guessed it, Boy No. 1 arrived on the scene and called me a "two timer" in front of Boy No. 2. What should I say? —H.P.
Dear H: Tell him it's time to be a two-timer when you're a three-time loser, and from now on he's at the bottom of your list.
When a boy isn't dependable you can be sure he has other bad qualities too. Don't give him a chance to stand up again. —H.

Dear Helen: The problem is college or marriage. I am 17 a senior, very popular with both sexes, also called "The Brain" an odd name for a girl.
I have won a $25.00 scholarship to the college of my choice. The boyfriend thinks we should get married and go to college together. We'd probably have the money for it, but I might get pregnant.
We love each other, and marriage is all right, I guess, but after all I am very fortunate to have this scholarship and I don't want to lose it. My parents say the decision is mine, as my brother is getting married and going on to college.
Which? —BEWILDERED
Dear Be: You're lukewarm on

HOPE (ARK) STAR. Printed by Offset marriage, but all fired up about your scholarship. If that doesn't answer your question, you rate "A" on brains, but "D" on understanding your own emotions (which aren't all that strong for your present boyfriend, Right?) —H.

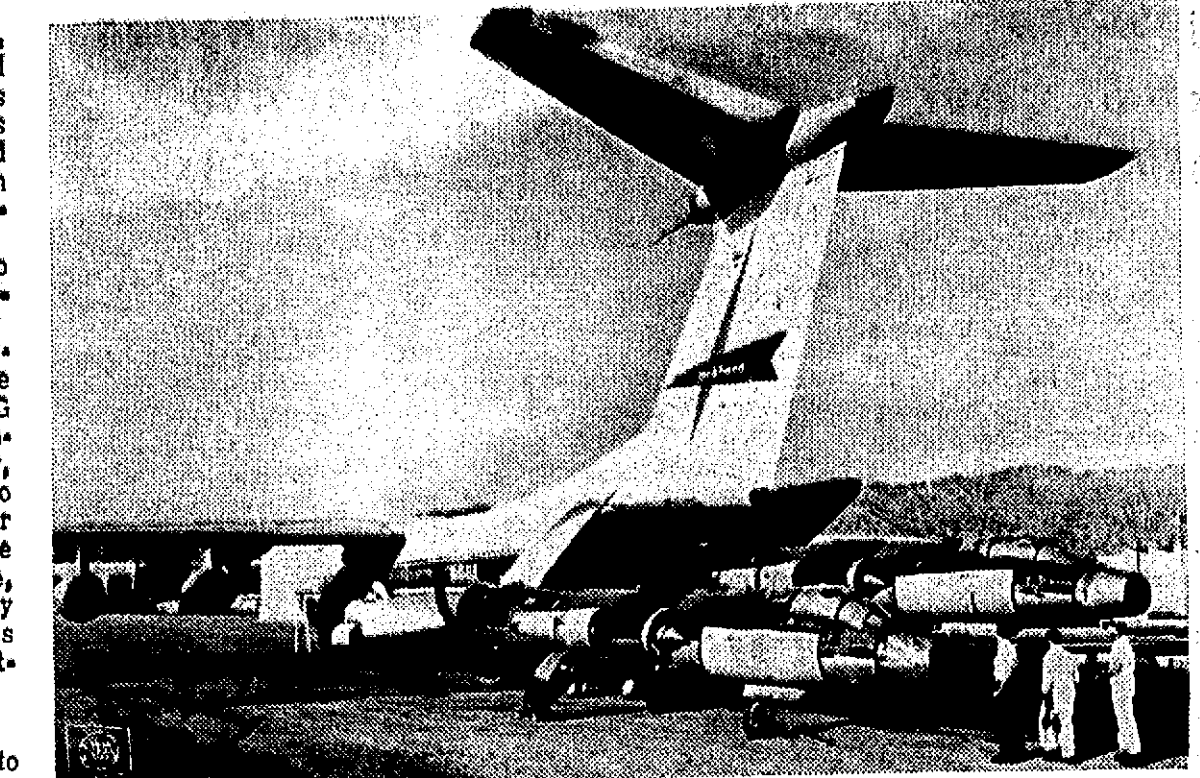

Dear Helen: On TV men who aren't married act so prissy. Like Batman and Captain Nice, flapping their capes around, etc. I think it's the same in life. I think men who are not married should be, because their wives might straighten them out. —YOUNG BUT SMART (Age 10)
Dear Y but S: I'm quite sure all unmarried girls agree with you honey. —H.

Dear Helen: My engagement party was held in a private room at a hotel. My mother told me beforehand not to open any gifts at the party as everyone wouldn't bring something and it might be embarrassing. I was to wait till I got home, then write thank-you notes.
Well, after the dinner, some of my fiancée's family asked when I was going to open my presents.

They insisted this was proper. I had no choice, so I opened them right there. My mother is mad because my future relatives won. Some of the guests are mad because they gave money which I didn't open, not wanting people to compare.
This is a heck of a way to start out. Who was right? —JANET

Dear Janet: Gifts may be opened whenever the bride-to-be wishes. The only thing WRONG about this situation is that tempers were lost. Why, oh why, must relatives work overtime to make a girl unhappy about her wedding? These should be the loveliest moments of her life, yet how often they're spoiled by petty squabbling among adults who certainly SHOULD know better! —H.

HITCHING A RIDE aboard a U.S. Air Force C-141 StarLifter, these two German F-104 fighter planes flew nonstop from Bonn, West Germany to Burbank, Calif. Wings and landing gear were removed to tuck the fuselages inside the mother ship. The flight was made as a demonstration of how massive, awkward freight previously considered non-transportable by air, can be flown to its objective in a fraction of the time required by other means.

BJ's Trip Has Overtures Politically

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's first major speech-making trip beyond Washington since the November elections brought him warm greetings from modest-sized Tennessee crowds.
If there were fewer home-made greeting placards than could be normal in a campaign, there also were far fewer critical signboards than Johnson saw on most of his excursions outside Washington last year.
In visiting the Nashville area, Johnson made a start on an undertaking urged upon him by a number of Democratic leaders disturbed about their party's election losses last November. They want him to make more personal appearances around the country, taking his case to the people.
He addressed the Legislature, helped celebrate the 200th birthday of Andrew Jackson, helped dedicate a new community college in Columbia and participated in a seminar on regional educational undertakings. He had a speech for each occasion.

The President, in effect, upstaged his wife, who had been scheduled to make solo appearances at all these events — apart from the one before the joint session of the Legislature.
His major surprise was the announcement of a reshuffle of the embassy in Saigon. He told the Legislature Henry Cabot Lodge is resigning and will be replaced by Ellsworth Bunker, 72, now an ambassador at large.
Johnson also announced other top level changes and promised intensive ground operations in the war in the months ahead.
There were barely a handful of antiwar pickets outside the Legislature in Nashville. But there was one untoward incident — when a young man, with obvious support from two women, plopped himself down in the middle of the roadway in front of the presidential limousine as Johnson was leaving the Capitol building.
All three were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct. They were identified as Brian Heggen, 20; Shirley Newton, 22, and Janett Dewart, 20, all of Nashville addresses.
They said they were employees of the Southern Student Organizing Committee, a civil rights group, but said they were protesting the war.
The presidential limousine veered to the left to avoid Heggen.
Because Johnson's journeys had political overtones, observers took particular care to note the size and temper of the crowds. They were quite modest but greeted him warmly.

Attend Science Meet

Miss L. J. Babb, senior high science teacher at Yerger and LeRoy Phillips, one of the top science students, attended the First Arkansas Science and Humanities Symposium, March 9-11, which was held at the Grady Manning Hotel in Little Rock. The Symposium was sponsored by the U. S. Army Research office and Arkansas State University, with the cooperation of Arkansas Power and Light Company, Arkansas Academy of Science, University of Arkansas Graduate Institute of Technology, University of Arkansas Medical Center and the U. S. Army Arsenal, Pine Bluff.

Pay TV Sure to Bring a Big Battle

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission appears headed for bruising battles with two House committees over pay television and a controversial $2-billion broadcasting merger.
The House Small Business

Committee already has launched preliminary studies of the FCC's approval earlier this year of the merger between American Broadcasting Companies Inc., and International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.
The House Commerce Committee appears poised to look into both the giant ABC-ITT merger, biggest in broadcasting history, and a proposal being considered by the FCC to authorize pay television throughout the country.
Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., said today in an interview he has not yet decided whether the full committee or one of its subcommittees will look into the matter.
Staggers heads an investigations subcommittee, while Rep. Torgert H. MacDonald, D-Mass., heads a power and communications subcommittee with jurisdiction over FCC affairs.
The pay television issue erupted earlier this week when Rosel H. Hyde, the FCC chairman, told the Commerce Committee that a three-member commission subcommittee expected to report within a month on the proposal for nationwide pay-TV.
Staggers accused Hyde of trying to put pay television into effect without first trying to get consent of Congress.
"Maybe we better have some hearings next week and have you all up and see what your thinking is," he told Hyde.
The FCC chairman told Staggers the proposal would permit establishment of nationwide pay television, a question which has been before the FCC for nearly 15 years.
"This is amazing to me," said Staggers, "I think you are really trying to pull a fast one on the Congress and this nation."
He told Hyde and the six other commissioners: "You ought not to even put it out until this committee has a chance to look at what is going on."
"We would be happy to have the committee's views on the proposed rules," said another commissioner, Kenneth A. Cox.
Staggers was less definite when interviewed as to when the committee would look into the matter. MacDonald said he also was interested in the pay television issue, as well as the ABC-ITT merger.

Fire Damages Hotel at Eureka Spgs.

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Fire destroyed about 75 per cent of the historic Crescent Hotel Wednesday despite efforts of fire departments from three cities.
The landmark that towered over Eureka Springs since May 1, 1886, was built by former Gov. Powell Clayton and had served as a year-round hotel, the Crescent College for Girls, and later as a hotel during the summer months.
The present major owner, Dwight Nichols, had been operating it only in the summer. Painters were working in the hotel Wednesday in anticipation of a scheduled May 1 opening.
The alarm was reported at 10:30 a.m. and fire departments from Rogers, Berryville and Green Forrest helped Eureka Springs residents battle the blaze.

Easter Hats Are Bright

WHEN EASTER COMES, a hat is a most desirable piece of feminine frippery. It puts the finishing touch on any ensemble. Highlights of Easter finery will include the perky, back-of-the-head roller (upper left) with its face-framing band of flowers. Vivid tones of gold and mango project the simplicity of design in the broad-brim jungle print hat (upper right). These are by Lilly Dache. A most flattering silhouette (lower left) is the square-brim cloche of oversized flowers by Sally Victor. And typical of this spring's return to femininity is the alabaster straw ripple brim (lower right) with its wrap-around of matching chiffon. This is an Archie Eason design.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Even weight silks, Panama straws and airy crocheted straws are among the favorites. You'll have your chance to flutter those lashes (real or store-bought) under your hat brim on that special Sunday in March.

The story of this year's Easter bonnet is told in bright colors and light and airy materials. Brims take on every shape from off-the-face rollers, large and small, to wide, floppy, rippled brims. And bright accents in chiffon take the form of bands, streamers, and wrap-arounds.

Happiness Is a Lemon Butter Layercake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

FEW DESSERTS are more popular with Americans than their own great big-layercakes, filled and frosted.

When such a cake is made with butter, its flavor is at its best. When it's filled with lemon butter and frosted with lemon-flavored whipped cream, it's heavenly.

The following recipe should interest all layercake devotees. There's lots of cake—three layers of it—and the creamy frosting is piled on thick.

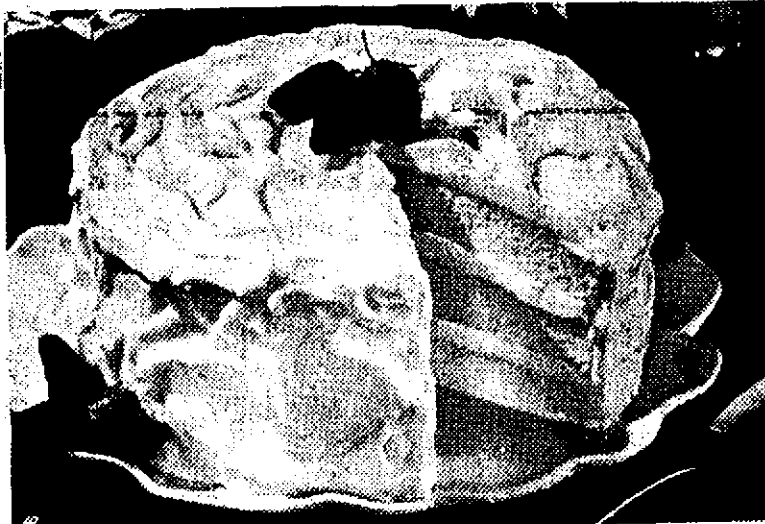

LEMON BUTTER LAYERCAKE
3 cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
3/4 cup (1-1/2 sticks) butter
1-1/2 cups granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 eggs
1-1/4 cups milk

Lemon Frost and Fill (one recipe)
1-1/2 cups heavy cream
1/3 cup confectioners sugar
Butter 3 round 9-inch layercake pans. On wax paper, sift together the cake flour and baking powder. In a large mixing bowl, cream the butter, granulated sugar and vanilla. Add eggs one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Stir in the flour mixture in 4 additions, alternately with milk, just until smooth; begin and end with flour mixture. Turn into prepared pans. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 20 to 25 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean. Place cakes in pans on

LEMON FROST AND FILL
(For Lemon Butter Layercake)
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
1/4 cup lemon juice
1-1/3 cups granulated sugar
1/2 cup (1 stick) sugar
3 eggs, slightly beaten
Into a 1-quart saucepan turn the lemon rind, lemon juice, serving plate; spread with 1/2 cup of the chilled Lemon Frost and Fill; add a second cake layer and spread again with 1/2 cup of the chilled Lemon Frost and Fill; add the third cake layer. Whip cream until almost stiff; add confectioners sugar and beat until stiff; fold in the remaining Lemon Frost and Fill; use this to frost top and sides of cake—it will make a generous covering. This cake keeps well for several days in the refrigerator. No salt is used in the cake batter recipe.

Place a layer of the cake on a

Abdominal Stress Not Necessarily Gallstones

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What is chronic cholecystitis and cholelithiasis? What are the symptoms and what is the usual treatment?

A—Cholecystitis is an inflammation of the gall bladder and cholelithiasis refers to gallstones. A person with chronic cholecystitis usually has a nagging pain in the pit of the stomach, a low fever and intermittent jaundice. Gallstones cause no symptoms unless they get stuck in the bile duct where they produce severe colicky pains.

In the absence of gallstone colic the treatment consists of antispasmodics, antacids and mild sedatives if insomnia is a problem. If you are having attacks of gallstone colic your gall bladder should be removed but the diagnosis must be carefully made because many a gall bladder has been removed and later found not to have been the cause of the patient's abdominal distress.

Q—My doctor says I have functional Biliary Dyskinesia. How is this diagnosis made and what is the treatment?

A—The disorder is biliary dyskinesia. A functional disease (opposite of organic) is one that is not caused by any structural change in an organ. Its cause may be purely emotional or chemical. Biliary dyskinesia is an impairment of the emptying and filling of the gall bladder which is often accompanied by painful spasms. The diagnosis is made by problem. X-ray studies that show no stones or organic defects in the gall bladder but reveal its failure to empty after a fatty meal. Many victims are improved following the assurance that there is no cancer or other serious disease requiring an operation. They must avoid opiates in all forms and eliminate alcohol and fats from their diet. A short course of sedatives and antispasmodics may also help.

Q—I have had several attacks of gall bladder inflammation for which antibiotics give prompt relief. Is there any treatment that will prevent these recurrences?

A—This sequence of events is often observed when treatment with antibiotics is discontinued as soon as the acute phase is under control. For your next bout of this disease try taking the antibiotic for 10 days after you are apparently cured.

Q—What does a gall bladder diet consist of?

A—The usual gall bladder diet should contain adequate protein, very little fat and a large amount of carbohydrate.

You won't believe the prices... they're so low.

Are A&P Brand Frozen Vegetables a good reason for shopping A&P?

They're one of many.

P.S. There are exceptions:

Potato Morsels, Cottage Fries, Whole Peeled Potatoes.

That's because today there are no standards for Grade A on these items.

But don't worry. There are none finer.

A New Industry?
An Inquiry
From Illinois

Editor The Star: We have obtained a copy of your four-color work on the front page of the January 28 Hope Star. The reproduction is excellent.

We have recently purchased a Goss Community offset press and are running three-color separations at the rate of one a month. We would like to use color pictures more often, but as you know, the old method of making them is very costly.

We are wondering if you are doing outside work with your Berkey machine, and if so, what would be your prices for various sizes of pictures? Also, would you be able to use 2 1/4 by 2 1/4 negatives?

We would rather not invest in such an expensive service as the Berkey separator just after installing a new press, but would like to run color, and are looking for ways to do this faster and at less expense.

Just a thought, but if you are doing outside work, maybe you could help us. Gratefully

Editor's Reply: Thanks for your letter of the 14th. We are honored to receive business inquiries from distant states, but at this particular moment they are just as embarrassing as some of the questions that are being asked here at home.

We bought the first big Berkey color separator, 8x10, sold to an American newspaper, and it was our avowed intention to produce process negatives for the color trade as well as for our own paper—and we advertised in the 1967 Directory of the Arkansas Press Association. Furthermore, Berkey Technical Corp., New York, ordered 5,000 reprints of our front page of Jan. 28 and mailed them to every paper in the country. I presume this is the source of your inquiry.

Nevertheless, we have produced but two process color editions so far, and while the negative sets were made here on our machine they were done not by our staff but by Arve Jensen of New York, co-inventor of the machine, while he was calibrating it for push-button operation.

It is this automatic operation we are just now beginning. As a matter of fact, it began yesterday. I was joined here yesterday by Garland Bosley of Jungkind Co., our Little Rock photo supply house, and Gordon L. Price of Eastman Kodak Co. at Dallas is coming in today. Between us we expect to knock out the negative sets for several color picture subjects.

This is the pioneering stage and we aren't ready to announce either a regular production schedule or the prices we will charge for negative sets furnished other publishers, printers, and advertising agencies. We have had inquiries like yours from Little Rock, Shreveport and elsewhere, and have given them the same answer.

But I can tell you one thing. If the Berkey machine didn't hold the promise of setting up a new specialty business here, producing color separations in a fraction of the time and at a fraction of the cost of old handcraft methods I never would have bought it.

Nor is it a relatively expensive machine. It costs less than half the replacement price of one of the Linotypes I sold when closing out our letterpress plant last year. But your new offset press was a major investment—as well I know—and the expansion of color facilities can come later.

Meanwhile you are on our list and will be notified the day we go on the production line with a price schedule.

Answering your other question: The Berkey machine will handle any size color transparency from an 8x10 to 35 mm., and will enlarge any of them to a full standard newspaper page. It is fast. It will make a set of negatives in an hour or so—a job for which handcrafters require three days to a week.

Its costs are cheap. A Dallas engraving house quoted me $136.10 for a set of separations for each of the two process color pictures we have published. Comparative prices in Little

New Livestock Show Officers Named

8 Counties Plan Third Dist. Show

Eight Counties were represented at a planning meeting of the Third District Livestock Show held on March 14th at the Diamond Cafe. Ray Turner, President of the association, stated that this was one of the best attended meetings that had been held in several years and he expressed his appreciation to all who attended and help with the planning of the 1967 show, scheduled for the last week in September.

Attending from Miller County were A. P. Cox, John W. Measel and County Judge Rudy Burgess. Nevada County was represented by County Judge Ralph Barnes, Ellis Stewart and Adair Brackman; Ray Goodson, W. Wellhausen with the Extension Service was here from Pulaski County; Billy Patterson and D. C. Poindexter representing Garland County; Joel N. Ferguson and Lee Stanley representing Montgomery County; County Judge Alvis Stokes and Bobby Malone were in attendance from Pike County; D. F. Bankhead represented Clark County and the following attended from Hope and Hempstead County: Ray Turner, County Judge Finis Odom, Travis Ward, Roy Fry, Bin McRae, Arch Wylie, Troy Buck, Paul Harvell, Donal Parker, Talbot Feldt, Frank Douglas and B.N. Holt.

President Ray Turner told the group that contracts for the Rodeo and Carnival for the show had already been executed and that plans were about complete for additional improvements to some of the buildings at the

The Berkey machine should do the job for half or possibly a quarter of handcraft costs—a fantastic breakthrough for all of us in the graphic arts.

Teachers Rebel Against Student Assaults in The Blackboard Jungle

By DAVE SMITH
NEW YORK (AP) — It was in New York in 1954 that ex-school teacher Evan Hunter described the city's classrooms—already crowded with the angry children of the poor and increasingly the arena for teen-age savagery—as “the blackboard jungle.”

Today the fear is growing that the jungle is spreading, threatening to obliterate the education of many, along with all that education means to their hope of a better future.

This week New York witnessed one of the most disheartening aspects of the battle for young minds when former comrades-in-arms against the jungle instead took aim at each other. On Tuesday, 79 teachers at Judge Alvis Stokes and Bobby Malone were in attendance from the New York City Board of Education of failing to alleviate overcrowding, overwork and student assaults upon teachers.

In an astonishingly rapid and widespread display of sympathy, more than 1,000 teachers from all over the city rallied the next day, echoing the complaints from “98 Bronx,” promising protest pickets and urging school boycotts, teachers' union strikes and mass resignations.

School officials expressed dismay, stressed their claims that they have tried to ease the lot of teachers and then announced—as boards of education must, several officials suggested—that they would deal firmly with the rebel teachers, that they had “no alternative but to accept” the resignations.

An Associated Press survey of school officials, teachers, parents and even students revealed an ironic similarity in the views of all parties to the bitter dispute: There appears to be no single master villain anyone can name, the same complaints about school conditions feed the wrath of all combatants, and everyone agrees on who stands to suffer the worst—the kids.

Says a Puerto Rican mother of a 98 Bronx student: “My girl sure ain't learning a thing when those teachers aren't in school, but sometimes I think she ain't learning much anyway. Not when some of those kids start tearing up the classes.”

Ken Allen, a teacher at the nearby Bronx High School of Science, said at Wednesday's massive teacher rally: “We're demanding psychologists and psychiatric help, more supervisors and more civilians in the schools to help with the disruptive students.”

Cottrell Goes Before the Grand Jury

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J.H. Cottrell Jr. of Little Rock, a former state representative, appeared before the Pulaski County Grand Jury for 15 minutes Wednesday but declined to comment on it.

Moments after Cottrell left the jury room Haco Boyd, the jury foreman, went to the chambers of Circuit Judge William J. Kirby.

Boyd told a newsmen he went to see the judge on “a matter of order.” He declined to say why Cottrell was questioned.

Kirby gave the jury a specific charge Tuesday to investigate a statement by Rep. Gayle Windsor Jr. of Little Rock that he was offered “10 bills” on March 3 to vote for a bill to legalize casino gambling in four private clubs in Hot Springs.

Rails Denied Request to Hike Rates

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A request by railroads for a 10 per cent increase in intrastate switching charges in Arkansas has been denied by the state Commerce Commission.

The railroads asked for the increase last year, saying it was necessary to meet rising costs. Several organizations fought the increase, saying they were unjustified and would hurt shippers in the state.

The commission said the railroads had failed to show that their operations in the state justified an increase.

Aussie Hired for Prison

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Harold A. Porter, a 38-year-old warden at Sydney, Australia, has been hired to supervise the cell blocks at Tucker Prison Farm.

Asst. Supt. Thomas O. Murton said Wednesday that “there is absolutely no question about his (Porter) integrity or skill or his ability to handle people.”

Against Guns for Trustees

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Asst. Supt. Thomas O. Murton says a poll of convicts at Tucker Prison Farm shows that 91 per cent of the convicts voting indicated they did not favor allowing trusty guards to carry guns.

Murton said 87 per cent of the convicts said they would prefer to work under a “free world” guard.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ward, Ark., community in Lonoke County will receive a $21,120 Interior Department grant for sewer system improvements, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Wednesday.

Change Means U.S. Military to Have More Dominant Voice

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON (AP) — Replacement of the top men in the U.S. Embassy in Saigon means that the U.S. military is going to have a commanding voice in the all-important pacification program to bring the South Vietnamese people under control of the Saigon government, many Americans in Saigon believe.

Though reports from Washington say the new embassy team is to step up the pacification program, senior American officials here don't expect major changes in the program itself. Outgoing Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told newsmen today he doesn't believe Washington is unhappy at the progress of civilian programs in Vietnam.

However, many sources believe the departure of Lodge and Deputy Ambassador William O. Porter, both determined advocates of civilian responsibility for the pacification program, is certain to give Gen. William C. Westmoreland and his officers the dominant voice.

For some time there has been an underground struggle between the U.S. military and the embassy for influence. Fear of a military takeover of civilian affairs led to the formation of the embassy's Office of Civil Operations, headed by Porter, to direct the multimillion-dollar pacification program.

Many feel that only the strong personalities of Lodge and Porter kept the demands of the military officers at bay.

Porter has built up a powerful civilian organization that controls and coordinates the civilian agencies supporting the revolutionary development program, the current name for the pacification program. The deputy ambassador will leave behind a capable, functioning organization.

Of South Vietnam's estimated 11,000 hamlets, 4,461 are classed as pacified but this figure is open to doubt. The goal for 1967 is 1,100 more.

Population is probably a better index of control. Of the estimated 15 million South Vietnamese, 8 million are considered under government control, 5 million under Viet Cong control, and the remaining 2 million are in a shadowland.

The 1967 pacification program has four priority areas which will get more aid and assistance than the others.

One region is around Da Nang, where U.S. Marines were operating. Another is in coastal Binh Dinh Province, where the current pacification scheme took root. The third embraces several provinces around Saigon. The fourth is an area of the Mekong Delta, centered on the Hoa Hao religious sect's province of An Giang.

Thousands of revolutionary development teams, each made up of 59 South Vietnamese, are being trained to work in the target villages. They enter a village, take a census, befriend the villagers, do small jobs of rebuilding and recruit a local guard.

Red Gunners Down Four U.S. Planes

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — Communist mortar attacks raked seven American and Vietnamese positions Wednesday night and today while Red gunners brought down three U.S. warplanes and one helicopter in North and South Vietnam.

Official spokesmen said nine Vietnamese civilians were killed in the mortar attacks, 38 U.S. soldiers were wounded and there were “heavy” casualties at a few isolated Vietnamese outposts.

One South Vietnamese pacification unit of about 50 men was hit hard in the delta.

The civilian dead and wounded included a number of women and children.

One Communist mortar attack also brought down a U.S. helicopter attempting to land at a highland clearing near Pleiku. U.S. casualties were not known yet in Saigon.

The mortar attacks followed the current Communist pattern of inflicting maximum casualties with long-range shelling and avoiding ground battle except where success seemed likely.

The weekly casualty toll announced by U.S. authorities reflected the Communist tactics, listing 175 U.S. dead and 892 wounded last week.

The total of American dead was about average for recent weeks but was 33 per cent more than the average at the same time last year, when far fewer U.S. troops were in Vietnam.

The weekly summary put the Communist death toll at 1,407 last week, somewhat lower than average.

A U.S. spokesman said that ground contact was infrequent Thursday except in Pleiku Province in the highlands where a brigade of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division was in a stiff fight with a shadowy Communist unit. It was in this action that the helicopter was brought down by mortar fire as it attempted to settle in to a landing zone in the highland brush.

AEA Calls a State Meet of Teachers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A statewide meeting of teachers has been called for Saturday by officials of the Arkansas Education Association.

The AEA released a legislative bulletin saying the meeting would be held to discuss strategy on four school bills awaiting legislative action when the General Assembly reconvenes March 27.

The four bills to be discussed are the proposed Revenue Stabilization Act, the distribution of state funds for schools, a bill increasing benefits for retired teachers and a teacher tenure bill.

Would Outlaw Para-Mutuel Gambling

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The editor of the Arkansas Baptist Newsmagazine says the Central Baptist Association has pledged its support to the editor's campaign to have pari-mutuel gambling outlawed in Arkansas.

Dr. Erwin McDonald proposed in the March 9 issue of the newsmagazine that a constitutional amendment be adopted to end horse racing at Hot Springs and dog racing at West Memphis, the only two places in the state where pari-mutuel gambling is legal.

McDonald said the Central Baptist Association is one of 43 Baptist associations in the state. He said it has a membership of 16,800 in 43 Baptist churches in Garland, Grant, Hot Spring and Saline counties.
